Ka*en
We just returned from Vietnam, Laos, Cambodia and Thailand. Mia Wang planned the trip with us. She was wonderful to work with. I cannot say enough good things about her and Odynovo. We had a slight glitch at the airport when we were to depart. I called her in China, a 12 hour time difference, and they responded immediately to make sure everything was taken care of. The tour guides and drivers were exceptional, we always felt so safe. You cannot go wrong with this tour company.

Fr*ey
My first time using Odynovo. Will definitely use again. Alick, Yusanna and all the guides / drivers went out of their way to make our trip to Myanmar absolutely delightful!

Ma*od
We had very knowledgeable guides and very good drivers. Thailand and Cambodia are not easily travel so I’m glad some else did the driving. By taking a private tour instead of a bus tour we were able to go into places with the car that the buses had to leave and take other transportation into.

Saigon

Saigon, officially known as Ho Chi Minh City, blends the charm of the East and the romantic feeling of France in the country’s largest city. Get ready to visit the well-known French Colonial architecture like Notre Dame Cathedral, and eat like a local in street restaurants for exotic delicious food. Besides, day trips from Saigon are a great way to explore the historic wartime sites like the Cu Chi Tunnels, and the rural Mekong Delta.
Mekong Delta

If you're looking for a quieter, unique experience, why not take a trip to the lush Mekong Delta? Colorful floating markets, palm-lined waterways, quaint villages and fruit orchards all draw many to the area. The best way to explore is on a scenic boat ride for sightseeing. The chances are excellent that you will enjoy the picturesque countryside and see what life is like on the Delta.

Da Nang and Hoi An

The beautiful coastal city of Da Nang and the nearby UNESCO-recognized ancient town of Hoi An are always two main attractions in central Vietnam. From touring the rice paddies, strolling along the lantern-lit streets, relaxing at the beach or enjoying the food scene, you’re bound to find something.

Sapa

The Sapa region of north Vietnam has long been the go-to destination for adventurous travelers, where terraced rice paddies stretch as far as the eye can see, coupled with an array of colorful minority cultures. Hike off the beaten path along mountainside trails from one to another of many different minority villages, and get to visit local homes for an insight into a lifestyle that has changed little for centuries.
UNIQUE EXPERIENCES

Whether you’re sailing on the tranquil waters of Halong Bay or exploring the hidden caves of Phong Nha, you will surely have an immersive, local experiences to discover the real Vietnam.

Halong Bay Cruise

The first thing comes into many people's mind when speaking of traveling to Vietnam is undoubtedly Halong Bay, a well-known UNESCO World Heritage Site. Cruise along the emerald waters, dotted with karst islands and formations, to fully enjoy the glorious seascape at its best. Kayaking and cave exploration can be added for more fun.

Cave Exploration

Cave exploration has to a part of your unique experiences, thanks to Vietnam’s otherworldly caves. You have an opportunity to delve deep into caves of Phong Nha National Park, which houses many limestone grottoes, stalactites and stalagmites, and within the Paradise Cave is an absolute highlight.

With visits to those war sites such as War Remnant Museum and Cu Chi Tunnels, you will be as much as possible to learn more about it and discover where and how the war was really fought.

Water Puppet Show

Unique to Vietnam, the unusual art form of Water Puppetry is at least 1,000 years old. Quite amusing and rather confusing: playful puppets, operated by the invisible hands of the master puppeteers, perform on water surface of a waist-deep pool at the tunes of traditional Vietnamese folk music. How puppets are controlled is part of the magic of the show – catch a show in Hanoi and see if you can figure it out!

Bangkok

Bangkok, Thailand’s capital, is a large, diverse city with something for everyone. In between the skyscrapers, the city is never short on historical and cultural attractions of its own; and the waterways around the Chao Phraya River are some of the most scenic areas. Ever-changing and constantly growing, Bangkok has so much more to be discovered.

Chiang Rai

The northernmost Thai province of Chiang Rai is home to beautiful mountains, incredible waterfalls and relaxing hot springs. With such a pleasant atmosphere, there is never a lack of historical and cultural attractions for travelers in this laid back destination. Close to the borders of both Laos and Myanmar, it also serves as an excellent base for exploring the Golden Triangle region.

Pure white sands, crystal-like seawater and fresh seafood – it doesn't get much better than a vacation to this beautiful island. The Thailand's largest island is a piece of paradise with tons of options for travelers. Thai food has become popular around the world, but definitely tastes best in Thailand itself. BEST PLACES TO VISIT

Ancient yet modern, Cambodia is one of the most exciting countries to visit in Southeast Asia. From the sacred temples of Angkor in Siem Reap to the charming floating villages on the Tonle Sap Lake, the historic sites in the vibrant Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh and the beautiful beaches in the South Coast, Cambodia has something for everyone.

Angkor Temples
No visitor to Cambodia will want to miss these beautiful temples, especially the magnificent Angkor Wat, the largest religious complex on earth. The size, intricacy, and symmetry of the Angkor temples represent the greatest architectural achievement of the Khmer Empire that ruled today's Cambodia and much of Thailand, Laos, Vietnam and Myanmar for centuries.

South Coast
The South Coast of Cambodia is where you can unwind after temple-hopping in the north. The beaches, though much less developed than their Thai neighbors, draw many travelers, but the region also provides a range of unusual experiences including idyllic islands, national parks, ancient cave temples, and fabulous seafood.
UNIQUE EXPERIENCES

Cambodia is a small country brimming with one-of-a-kind things to do. From seeing the legendary Angkor Wat at sunrise and sunset to spending a night in a floating tent in the jungle and watching a spectacular apsara dinner show, these are just 3 of the most unique experiences you can expect to have on a Cambodia tour.

Sunrise and Sunset at Angkor

Seeing the first or the last glimmering rays of the sun light up the world’s largest religious structure is definitely a fantastic experience; the air of mystery and spirituality is magnified in the morning or evening light. To enjoy this once-in-a-lifetime experience, make sure you arrive early or stay late at the site and choose the right spot to watch.
Apsara Dinner Show
Watching an apsara dinner show is an exciting way to spend your evening hours in Siem Reap. Enjoy the very best of Cambodian cuisine while watching dancers dressed in elaborate costume bring to life ancient Khmer culture in stunning surroundings. Pay attention to the dancer's graceful, mesmerizing moves as each delicate hand gesture conveys a distinctive meaning.

Sleep in a Floating Tent in the Jungle
Ever imagined sleeping on the beautiful waters of a jungle? 4 Rivers Floating Lodge, located along the Tatai River in Cambodia's magnificent coastal province of Koh Kong, can make your dream a reality. Myanmar
Best Places to Visit

An extraordinary land unlike any other countries in Southeast Asia, Myanmar (formerly Burma) has the power to impress even the most jaded travelers. Marvel at the gilded pagodas in Yangon and Mandalay, contemplate over 2,000 ancient temples in Bagan, and observe the unique way of fishing and farming in the picturesque Inle Lake.
Yangon

Yangon is the commercial hub and the largest city in Myanmar. As the former capital of Burma, Yangon retains its unique character, with gilded pagodas such as the magnificent Shwedagon Pagoda, leafy boulevards, colonial-era buildings, timeworn mansions, and charming local markets.

Bagan

An ancient city with thousands of temples, Bagan is, without doubt, one of Asia’s most important archaeological sites. In its glory days, there were some 10,000 Buddhist temples, pagodas, and monasteries scattered across the plains of Bagan. Today, over 2,000 of them survive and it is still an incredible sight to see.

Mandalay

Myanmar’s second largest city is also the country’s cultural capital and a religiously important place. There are the splendid Royal Palace, the symbol of Mandalay, and the Mandalay Hill where you can climb to admire a breathtaking sunset view of the city. There are also stunning monasteries and pagodas like the Shwenandaw Pagoda whose walls are adorned with exquisite wood-carvings, and colorful markets where you can shop, eat or just observe the local life.

Inle Lake

In the northeast of Myanmar, you will find the large, mesmerizing Inle Lake, along with fascinating floating villages and gardens. The local communities live in wooden houses built on stilts and people row their boats simply with one leg to fish. These amazing sights make Inle Lake one of the best places to visit in Myanmar.
One of the largest and most diverse countries in Southeast Asia, Myanmar has an endless list of unique experiences to offer. Witness the one-legged rowing in the serene Inle Lake, enjoy a hot air balloon ride over the vast temple plains of Bagan, explore some of Myanmar's most amazing markets, visit the long-neck people in the remote Shan and Kayah states.
One-Leg Rowing Fishing

Floating stilt houses are not the only amazing sight to see in Myanmar’s peaceful Inle Lake. Expect to witness a magnificent spectacle: the local Intha fishermen expertly maneuvering their small canoe-like wooden boats by rowing with one leg, a unique way of fishing that requires a high level of balance, agility and strength.

Hot Air Balloon Over Bagan

This is a must-do experience in Bagan. The hot air balloon enables you to see the vast temple ruins in a way that can never be seen on the ground. Enjoy endless views of over 2,000 temples and pagodas illuminated by the rising sun, the winding Irrawaddy River and other hot air balloons littering the sky.

Local Markets Visit

Myanmar has some of the most amazing markets in Southeast Asia. They are the perfect places to see a wide range of fresh produce and handicrafts, interact with the local people and get an insight into the Burmese way of life. The most recommended markets to visit are Yangon’s Bogyoke Aung San Market and Bagan’s Nyaung U Market.

Long Neck Family Visit

The Shan and Kayah states in Myanmar are home to one of Southeast Asia’s most recognizable ethnic groups—the Kayan people. Here women have giraffe-like necks stretched in the clasp of brass rings, which the locals believe can protect them and make them more beautiful. The striking appearances of these long-neck women have fascinated travelers from the world over and are worth your visit.

6. What is the latest time that I can make my reservation?
   We suggest you make reservations at least one month before the departure date.
