Th"ur
Odynovo planned and executed an excellent trip for me and my recent college graduate daughter. I was more than impressed with Odynovo. Debora Wei, my contact at Odynovo, was responsive and planned a wonderful trip. She even made sure that all of my hotels were 5 stars, and suggested the Tiger Safari in Ranthambhore. This turned out to be our favorite part of the trip. We were met in each city by a local agent, in addition to having wonderful guides at each location. We always felt safe, and very well taken care of. A special shout out to our driver: Mr. Thskur...He drove us all over the golden triangle in a safe manner. Always sensing when to stop for a "pit" stop and find a clean, western style bathroom. He took extra special care of both of us! Thanks for a great trip!

Av*gh
My husband and I were recently on a wonderful tour of Northern India organised by Odynovo. We had a wonderful driver. He was a fantastic unofficial guide, with perfect English, a great sense of humour, and amazing driving. He was always punctual, provided us with loads of biscuits, water, local colour and sage advice. We would use them again, a fab holiday!

Kr*in
We are really excited about our India/Nepal tour with Odynovo. We have appreciated our agent, Queenie Yang's quick answers to all of our questions and her hard work on setting up all the details of our tour - she was especially patient while we kept changing our dates! So far, working with Odynovo has been a great experience, and we can't wait for our tour!

INDIA
BEST PLACES TO VISIT

Delhi
Poor and rich, old and modern are two pairs of antonym to describe Delhi. That’s exactly a mix of new and old city culture which makes it the most dramatic place in India. You may find the grand Jama Masjid, lively Chandni Chowk bazaar in old Delhi, and modern India Gate and Raj Ghat in New Delhi...

Agra
Agra earns its place in India’s Golden Triangle thanks to its incredible heritage of the Taj Mahal. Once the capital city under the Mughal Empire, it has a glorious past. Besides, the classic Taj Mahal, it offers another two remarkable monuments - Agra Fort and Fatehpur Sikri, which make Agra an unmissable stop.

Jaipur
Known as the Pink City, Jaipur is Rajasthan’s sparkling capital city with long history and elaborate palaces. From Amber Palace to Hawa Mahal and City Palace, every building within the walled historic center is painted pink, fairly vibrant and romantic. The names of them are poetic and lyrical, so visitors on arrival will immediately understand what’s behind the name.
Indian officials have said: "India is incredible India." Every inch of land will surprise you, such as dramatic Delhi, the classic Golden Triangle, comprehensive Rajasthan, spiritual Varanasi and idyllic Kerala. This is a journey of incredible food, architecture and faith.

Varanasi

Incredibly spiritual and chaotic, Varanasi is a truly old and holy city in India. It’s an auspicious place as the pilgrims wash their sins away and gain religious merit from the divine Ganges. The Ganga Aarti ceremony is usually associated with here. Don't be afraid, start your journey, and feel the power of faith.

Kerala

One of India’s most idyllic states, Kerala features sun, sea, tea, wildlife and fantastic food in one. What make it so popular is its scenic backwater, endless tea plantations, sandy beaches and welcoming homestay accommodation options. This is a place which is going to soothe your mind and soul.

Aurangabad

Aurangabad was once the ancient capital of Mughal Emperor. Obviously, this would be a perfect choice for you to explore the magnificent Mughal architecture. However, it is also a popular tourism hub for two brilliant heritage sites, Ajanta and Ellora caves.
When talking about a tour to India. What's do you think of? Curry, Bollywood, Home of Yoga? So, what's are the best experience in India? Find your answer in the brochure.

Taj Mahal

Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan spent over 20 years building the Taj Mahal, an architectural masterpiece and everlasting symbol of love, in memory of his beloved wife. The best time to visit is at sunrise and sunset as this white marble monument changes color when sunlight falls on it. If you like, take a cup of coffee with it as backdrop to light up your trip there.

Houseboat

One of the most relaxing things in Kerala is to take a houseboat along the palm-fringed Kerala canals, lying back while moving slowly along the tranquil backwater, and the rustic villages and lush fruit trees on both sides of river pass through. Meanwhile, your chefs prepare you some local specialties on board. It's just like a dream! And forget your life on land!
Ganga Aarti Ceremony

Ganga Aarti, the most spiritual ritual in Varanasi. There is no doubt that it should be in your bucket list! The ritual held every evening is in honor of Ganges River, performed by priests with conch shells, bells, fire elements and flowers, etc. Many people think it can cleanse their sin. It's indeed a divine and spectacular show of light and sound.

Bazaar Walking Tour in Jaipur

Maybe a market is an authentic way to get close to the local culture. Jaipur bazaar is truly a delight for art and food lovers: meet various vendors, like bangle makers, gold and silver casters, gem stone traders; sample numerous Indian snacks like samosas and kachoris; visit a centennial private residence and join a family for a cup of tea in their beautifully decorated drawing room.

Ellora & Ajanta

Ajanta and Ellora caves may be overshadowed by the magnificent Angkor Wat, but both of them have a long history going back earlier than Angkor Wat. Ajanta caves are adorned with delicate paintings and sculptures of Buddha, while Ellora caves hide with an incredible piece of craftsmanship. Kailash Temple, the world's largest monolithic monument carved out of a single rock.
